Notice on Media Coverage of Toshiba's Third Quarter for Fiscal Year 2016

TOKYO— The February 12, 2017 edition of the Nikkei reported that, “Toshiba group will report a net loss of about 400 billion yen ($3.52 billion) for the nine months through December 2016.” However, Toshiba is still finalizing fiscal year 2016 third quarter figures, and will report its results on February 14, as previously announced.

As of the end of the fiscal year 2016 third quarter, Toshiba expects to record a major third-quarter loss on the recognition of a loss of goodwill as a result of Westinghouse's acquisition of CB&I Stone & Webster (S&W).
