

February 12, 2019
Toshiba Corporation

Notice on Media Coverage of Toshiba's Business Results Forecast for Fiscal Year 2018

TOKYO— The February 11, 2019 morning edition of the Nikkei reported that, Toshiba Group will report a fall in its profit outlook for fiscal year 2018, and plans to book additional reserves in certain business segments, including energy. This reporting is not based on statements released by Toshiba.

Toshiba is currently examining its full-year forecast for fiscal year 2018, but they are expected to be close to those reported by the Nikkei. As previously announced, Toshiba will report its third quarter results on February 13, and will release its full-year forecast at the same time.

###